

BROOKLYN NEWS.

RE-ELECT SUPERVISOR KEHOE.

Brooklyn Democratic Aldermen Attempt Another Steal.

Nathan Apparently in Control of the Next Board.

The Brooklyn Board of Aldermen made a last struggle this morning to give control of the Board of Supervisors to the Democrats by filing a special election, and re-electing Supervisor George Kehoe, of the Eighth Ward, to succeed himself for the year 1894.

It was a most peculiar proceeding engineered by Alderman Arthur J. Henney. About two months ago Kehoe was appointed Supervisor to succeed Supervisor Stickney, deceased. Kehoe was appointed to serve the unexpired term of Stickney, which ended Dec. 31, 1893. The Republicans raised a point of law showing that the Aldermen could only appoint Kehoe to serve until Jan. 1, 1894. The Aldermen knowing that their successors would be mostly Republicans, who would elect a Republican Board of Supervisors, hesitated to do so.

Now, however, they have decided that although they did not have power to appoint Kehoe two months ago, such appointment would hold good if made today.

When the meeting was called to order Kehoe's resignation was read and accepted. He was immediately re-elected to serve another year.

Alderman Thomas (Rep.) asked the Democratic members how they could believe they had power to-day which they knew did not exist two months ago. Alderman Thomas and other Republicans hold now that Kehoe can only serve as Supervisor until the end of this official year, which is midnight to-morrow.

The Democratic members of the Board of Supervisors held a caucus last night at which it was decided to re-elect John J. McKane as President pro tem.

There was a lively meeting at the office of Albert G. McDonald, the new Corporation Counsel of Brooklyn, this morning, at which the discovery that Boss Nathan will probably control the new Board of Aldermen was considered. The new Board of Aldermen-elect and some of the new Mayor's cabinet.

There is an open secret now that Nathan gained control of the Aldermen, and through that body also controlled the new Board of Supervisors. This, it is thought, is due to the policy adopted by Mr. Schieren to make promises to no one.

The new Board is already divided in two factions. Of the fifteen members Nathan is said to have secured eight. This is in itself a great deal. Mr. Schieren is receiving a great deal of blame and one of the selected members of his cabinet, in an interview with an "Evening World" reporter, candidly said he was responsible for all the trouble.

"By adhering to the policy of making no promises the Mayor-elect is playing into the hands of Nathan, who is picking up the Aldermen by the collar, and which they already controlled," said the cabinet officer.

"Aldermen-elect Droge, of the Seventeenth Ward, is ready to jump over to Mr. Schieren's side and turn the tables on Nathan. At a recent meeting Mr. Schieren yesterday and offered to join his forces, but Mr. Schieren would not let him. As a result we shall lose the Chairmanship of the Board, and affairs will be in the hands of the same old machine."

LOOK OUT FOR BAD CHECKS.

A Man Is Working Successfully in Brooklyn.

A general alarm was sent out this morning by Supt. Campbell, of the Brooklyn police, warning the members of the force to look out for a man who is swindling storekeepers in various parts of the city with bad checks.

The latest victims are Robert Schach, a grocer, of 220 De Kalb avenue, who cashed a check for $38 drawn to the order of "George Schach" at the store of F. T. Terry, and Peter Stalneck, of 167 Washington avenue, who paid out a check bearing the indorsement of "John Hay."

The swindler is described as twenty-four years of age, of the Irish race, dark complexion and shabbily dressed.

FOUGHT OVER A WOMAN.

The Woman Got the Worst of the Row, Too.

Justice Goetting, in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, to-day held Frank Sumito, twenty-six years of age, of 246 North Second street, already under examination on a charge of assault.

In the Italian colony where Sumito lives is a woman named Mary Martin. Last night there was a gathering in the woman's house, and Mary announced her intention of taking another husband. There was a free fight shortly after this remark was made, and Mary got about the face and head with a razor which she was wielding by Sumito.

PUT POISON IN HIS BEER.

Cowles Drank It and Then Ran Home to Die.

Coroner Creamer, of Williamsburg, was notified to-day of the suicide of William Cowles, of 765 Park avenue, and will hold an inquest.

Cowles was a machinist and had been out of work for some time. Yesterday he went into the Lee Avenue saloon and poured carbolic acid into a glass of beer, drank it and then ran out, reaching home just in time to die.

POLICE CONTRIBUTE OVER $6,000.

The Money to Be Used for the Relief of Brooklyn's Poor.

Reports received at Brooklyn Police Headquarters to-day indicate that the fund contributed by members of the Department for the relief of the poor will amount to between $6,000 and $7,000.

The money has been subscribed freely by attaches of the police force. It will be collected on the next pay day and turned over to the committee in charge of the Relief Fund.

Proposed New Police Precinct.

It now looks as though the proposed new police precinct in Brooklyn will be a reality.

Deputy-Sergeant James Reynolds is spoken of as the man to be in charge of the new precinct. Reynolds, who has been on the force since 1880, was recently detached from duty in the Twenty-second Precinct, and is now on duty in the Central Office. He is popular with policemen and citizens.

Accused of Stealing $250.

Michael Hayes, forty-four years of age, of 1535 Coney Island, Brooklyn, was arrested to-day by Detective Thompson, of the District-Attorney's office, on a charge of stealing $250 belonging to Post Office, A. O. P., of which he was Treasurer.

Fire in a Mission.

Shortly after midnight this morning flames were discovered in a small frame building on Prospect place, between Utica and Rochester avenues, Brooklyn. The building is used as a Baptist mission. The fire was extinguished after causing a damage of about $500.

BROOKLYN'S DIVORCE MILL.

Decrees Granted to Mrs. Nau and Mrs. Endres.

Mulford, Walsh and Kelly Accused by Their Wives.

Justice Bartlett, in Supreme Court, Brooklyn, this morning heard testimony in a suit for absolute divorce brought by Isabella Nau against August C. Nau, formerly a well-known furniture dealer. The Naus were married in 1870, and have five children. Witnesses testified that the defendant had lived with Annie Woebeke as his husband. She died and he became friendly with his sister, Rebecca. An entry in the family Bible reads, "My beloved wife, Annie, is dead."

Witnesses testified that Rebecca Woebeke gave birth to a son, of which Nau was said to be the father. A decree will be granted.

Catherine Endres sued her husband, Joseph Endres, for a separation. The couple were married Nov. 5, 1890, and have one child, a son two years old. Mrs. Endres says her husband began ill-treating her less than one month after they were married. He beat and kicked her and pulled her round the room by the hair. She left him and went to her mother, but returned to her husband in several days. She threatened to put poison in his coffee. "After the death of a life did he lead?" she was asked.

"A wild, roving life—stealing and carrying on a life of crime," she testified. "What was the end of his career?" "He was sent to Sing Sing for three years and six months."

A decree was granted.

Catherine Mulford's suit for absolute divorce from her husband, Thomas Mulford, was next brought to trial. The couple were married in New York City in 1888. They had three children. Mrs. Mulford testified that they had traced Mulford and found that he was living at 22 Boerum street.

Thomas G. Eger, landlord of 22 Boerum street, testified that Mulford occupied the floor, and that he was living with Mrs. Catherine Mulford. Logan had told witness that Mulford was a drunkard.

Justice Bartlett declined to grant a decree upon the evidence presented, and the case was adjourned to allow the plaintiff to put in more testimony.

Testimony was heard in a suit brought by Kate Walsh against Thomas Walsh. They were married April 26, 1878. Mrs. Walsh has not seen her husband since one year after they were married. She has one child. The alleged correspondence now living in California. Declination was reserved.

In the suit brought by Lillie C. Kelly against George Tracy Kelly, witnesses testified that Kelly accompanied a woman to the Metropolitan Hotel in January, 1892. Declination was reserved.

JUSTICE STRAWSOR ABSENT.

His Failure to Appear Will Necessitate the Retrial of a Case.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., Dec. 30.—The Special Sessions of the County Court has adjourned until after New Year's. It was called yesterday and County Judge Smith and Justice of Sessions Cooper appeared on the Bench. The other Justice of Sessions, Strawsor, failed to put in an appearance. The Court waited for him twenty-four hours and then adjourned until after New Year's day.

Judge Strawsor's term expires Jan. 1. Justice Jennings, of Southampton, succeeds him. A Greenport case was commenced at a previous session, which Justice Strawsor was present, and as he heard part of the evidence no justice can be appointed to take his place in continuing the hearing of this case. The case, therefore, will have to be commenced all over again.

WORE STOLEN CLOTHING.

Arrest of Two Men Suspected of Many Robberies.

Capt. McKelvey, of the De Kalb avenue police station, Brooklyn, believes he has the men who have broken into basements of houses in his precinct, stealing quantities of clothing, silverware and anything they could find.

John Hoffman, twenty-three, and James Scanlon, twenty, who are homeless, were arrested early this morning on Lafayette avenue, near Franklin. They were held on a charge of wearing stolen clothing.

Both prisoners declared that they were looking for work, and promised the Captain that if he would release them they would return in the morning with persons who could vouch for their honesty.

Detective Delehanty was detailed to investigate the matter, and he took Justice F. Price, of 272 Skillman street, to the station-house, who identified the clothing belonging to Mrs. Hackett's estate as having been stolen from her house.

SHE GETS A NEW TRIAL.

General Term Sets Aside the Opinion in Mrs. Downey's Case.

The General Term of the City Court, Brooklyn, this morning handed down a decision setting aside the opinion of the trial judge in the case of Stephen J. Cook and Rev. John A. Fitzgerald, of St. Agnes's Roman Catholic parish, Brooklyn, as executors of the will of William Downey, of 542 Fourth avenue, Brooklyn.

The executors obtained a judgment against Mrs. Downey for $4,200, claiming that she had converted five United States bonds belonging to Mrs. Hackett's estate to her own use.

A new trial is granted.

Heaney Charged With Arson.

William Heaney, forty-three years of age, of 41 Jay street, Brooklyn, was under arrest this morning on suspicion of attempting to set fire to a one-story frame building at 31 South Oxford street.

Heaney was employed by residents of the neighborhood to carry out a barrel of coal. He was seen on the street yesterday afternoon at about 4 o'clock, a few minutes after which a fire was discovered.

Beecham's pills are for biliousness, sick headache, bilious headache, bad taste in the mouth, dyspepsia, coated tongue, sour stomach, loss of appetite, torpid liver, loss of appetite, dizziness.

when caused by constipation; and constipation is of the most frequent cause of all of them.

Book free; pills 25c. At drugstores.

TROLLEY EMERGENCY CREWS.

A New Feature of Brooklyn's Electric Transit System.

Broken Wires Repaired and Blockades Raised in Quick Time.

Brooklyn is covered with a network of electric trolley wires. If any one of them breaks there is danger of destruction and death.

The emergency wagons answer every alarm of fire in any part of the district in which the company's wires are located. If a break occurs in a wire or car, that is telephoned to the nearest emergency station and the wagons are quickly out on the way to the wreck.

At every station there are two teams of horses—one team for day and the other for night work. They are stabled, when on duty, in this room, which is a telephone and fire-alarm signal bell. This bell rings for every alarm of fire in the city.

The crew has a room near the stable, in which the men remain at all times when on duty in this room. They are trained like fire horses to run under the swinging patent harness at the sound of the bell.

The emergency wagons answer every alarm of fire in any part of the district in which the company's wires are located. If a break occurs in a wire or car, that is telephoned to the nearest emergency station and the wagons are quickly out on the way to the wreck.

Each member of the crew is provided with a fire badge, which gives him admission to the fire lines. The crews are not uniformed.

The wagons are interesting features of the system. They are stocked with everything that is necessary to make broken wires or a wreck-ladders, wire, jacks, blocks, tackle, ropes, insulators and kind of tools, lanterns, crowbars, shovels, axes, saws and a lot of other things necessary in time of trouble on the lines.

Some of the wagons are equipped more especially for wrecking purposes. These are the wagons which are used to make broken wires or a wreck-ladders, wire, jacks, blocks, tackle, ropes, insulators and kind of tools, lanterns, crowbars, shovels, axes, saws and a lot of other things necessary in time of trouble on the lines.

The wagons are being trained every day and pride themselves on their ability to get out of their quarters in quick time after an alarm has been received.

Recently one of the Atlantic Avenue cars was cleared of its passengers in ten minutes, went ten blocks to an accident, took out an intricate piece of broken machinery and put in a new one in a car all in the space of twenty minutes. The car had been jammed up off the track and the motor taken apart to get at the break.

The Brooklyn City crews can make equally good time.

The crews are not provided with very good quarters just now, as the system is new. It is the intention of the company to perfect the emergency system as far as it is possible.

Where a break in a trolley wire formerly meant a blockade of the entire line for hours the time is now reduced to minutes.

The Superintendent of the Atlantic Avenue Company's cars is E. R. Dunn. Where a break in a trolley wire formerly meant a blockade of the entire line for hours the time is now reduced to minutes.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

The wagons are similar to the police patrol wagons.

NEW JERSEY.

BURGERS BUSY IN JERSEY.

Seven Stations of the N. J. and N. Y. Railroad Looted.

Slot Machines and Express Packages Broken Open.

HILLSDALE, N. J., Dec. 30.—Seven of the New Jersey and New York Railroad stations, between Hillsdale and Hackensack, were visited by burglars last night. Automatic weighing machines were broken open, the money bags cut off with a knife, and the contents carried away.

Tickets were broken open, tickets were scattered over the floors and express packages were rifled. The greater part of the money obtained was from the weighing-machines.

The stations broken open were: Central avenue, Hackensack; Cherry Hill, Riverdale, New York; Gravelly, Etta, Riverdale, New York. The thieves secured the most booty at Gravelly. Besides taking the money from the weighing-machine they took a package that contained a suit of clothes belonging to F. E. Bulkeley, and broke open a package of fancy goods belonging to a brakeman on the lower end of the road.

William Covert, a brakeman on the lower end of the road, found a box of writing paper and a woman's stocking, supposed to have been taken from the package of Mrs. Scott, and dropped by the burglars in their hurry.

For the last three years the stations on the lower end of the road have been broken into once a year regularly, and some of them often, especially Central avenue, which has been entered three or four times during the past year.

DOWNTOWN AND HILL GANGS.

The Two Fights With Stones and Four Boys Were Fined.

This morning Alfonso Harris, of 114 Bruckway street; Jerome Rhythe, of 234 Third street; Frederick Eberly, of 93 Railroad avenue, and Charles Saunders, of 360 Fourth street, all of Jersey City, and members of a gang of boys known as the "Downtown Gang," were arrested before Justice O'Donnell.

Yesterday afternoon the "Downtown Gang" was led by Emma Mack, a girl who was thrown and many of the boys in both gangs were hurt. The police were notified and arrested the four boys. They were fined $3 each this morning.

DRY SUNDAY IN JERSEY CITY.

Police Supt. Smith Will Enforce the Excise Law.

Police Supt. Smith, of Jersey City, this morning said the Sunday Excise law would be enforced in that city to-morrow. He said every saloon would have to be kept closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

FATAL FIRE NEAR CAMDEN.

Edwin Gregory Thought to Have Perished in His Burned Home.

CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 30.—At 3 o'clock this morning the house, with contents, belonging to Edwin Gregory, at Paulsboro, near this city, was burned to the ground.

Gregory is supposed to have been burned to death, as nothing has been seen of him since the fire.

The fire was first seen on the second floor, on which was the sleeping apartment of Gregory. At the time the fire broke out there was no one in the house besides him, his wife and family having gone to Philadelphia to visit relatives.

It is thought Gregory was suffocated by the smoke. A search is now being made for his body.

The loss was $2,500. There was no insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

COMMISSIONERS TO BE TRIED.

Indictments Against Excise Officials Will Be Pushed.

MILLVILLE, N. J., Dec. 30.—It was learned to-day that the indictments against the Cumberland County Excise Commissioners are not to be pigeon-holed, as rumored, but that the indicted men will be tried at the next term of court, which convenes here on Jan. 1.

The President of the Board, Charles R. Kirby, who was also indicted, discreetly avoided the subject of the trial.

There are four bills against each one of the Commissioners, charging them with extortion in each case, and the two Commissioners within the reach of the law are under $200 bail. Their trial was not moved at the last term of court on account of the absence of "Bob" Naylor, an important witness for the State.

Naylor has turned up and has been served with a subpoena. He is an ex-saloon-keeper of Millville, who was relaxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will have another dry Sunday.

laxed closed, and he has instructed his men to arrest the proprietors of all saloons whose doors were open. It looks as if Jersey City will